County Snapshot

Mono County is centrally located on the eastern side of California. Inyo County borders to the south, Alpine County to the north, Tuolumne, Mariposa, Madera and Fresno counties to the west, and the state of Nevada to the east. Mammoth Lakes, a growing community and the center of winter sports activities, is located in the southern part of the county.

Between 1990 and 1999, Mono County's population increased by 6.9 percent. A projected population of 14,200 by the year 2020 indicates that the county will grow more rapidly, increasing by more than 30 percent over the current population.

The 1999 annual average statistics for the county show the civilian labor force to be 6,280 with an unemployment rate of 6.7 percent. The state's unemployment rate was 5.2 percent for the same year.

Services, the largest industry division in Mono County, accounts for 35 percent of the total employment. Other significant industry sectors providing employment are retail trade at 26.5 percent, and government which accounts for 20.4 percent of the total.

Industry employment projections for the period 1997 to 2004 combine Mono with Inyo County. Projections for the two-county area indicate that most of the jobs in future nonfarm wage and salary employment will be in the same three sectors. Services is projected to grow by 10.5 percent, retail trade by 7.6 percent, and government will add 160 new jobs, a growth of 4.3 percent by 2004.

Local labor market conditions have been improving steadily over the last five years in Mono County. The county should continue to record job growth and declining unemployment rates.

LABOR FORCE

After two years of recorded declines in labor force, Mono County posted 0.7 percent growth in 1997 and followed with modest growth in 1998 and 1999. Over the years 1995 to 1999, civilian labor force in neighboring Inyo County has grown slowly, increasing 1.4 percent.

Since 1995, the annual average unemployment rate for both Inyo and Mono counties has declined indicative of employment opportunities in the area. Mono County had a 6.7 percent unemployment rate in 1999, down 4.2 percentage points from a rate of 10.9 percent recorded in 1995.

INDUSTRY EMPLOYMENT

Mono County's nonfarm wage and salary employment recorded 5.4 percent growth in 1999 compared to 2.8 percent growth for the state. Over the years 1995 to 1999, annual average statistics show that Mono County had 11.7 percent cumulative growth in total nonfarm employment.

In 1999, the services, retail trade and government sectors dominated Mono County employment. Projections for Inyo and Mono counties for the forecast period 1997 to 2004 indicate that the same industries will account for 85 percent of the total growth in nonfarm employment.

OCCUPATIONAL EMPLOYMENT

Demographic trends, shifts in demands for products or services, technological innovations and the way business is conducted are some of the variables that drive employment in an occupation up or down. Also, occupations which have large employment and have high turnover rates generally provide the most job openings. Combined projections for Inyo and Mono counties indicate that there will be many employment opportunities in these high turnover occupations.
